

"Cead mile Failte"

In Scots Gaelic this means 'a hundred thousand welcomes', and hundreds of loyal fans are eagerly anticipating the Larry Carlton Trio's exclusive Scottish show at the Darvel Music Festival on 30 October 2010.

It has been over thirty five years since Larry played in Scotland and in that time his exquisite guitar work has graced some of the best albums in the history of music (Aja, Royal Scam, Hissing of Summer Lawns, Nightfly to name but a few). Larry has collaborated over the years with a great number of legendary acts and toured and performed with many world-class musicians such as the Crusaders, Robben Ford and Fourplay.

Scotland has waited patiently for Larry to 'come home' and he can be assured of a very warm and affectionate reception from the legions of fans who will make their way from all over Scotland, the United Kingdom and Europe to witness this legendary performance in Darvel.

The Larry Carlton Trio will be supported on the bill by Martin Taylor, another world famous jazz guitarist. Tickets are selling really fast for this exclusive concert so don't miss out; just go to www.darvelmusicfestival.org today for details of all national ticket outlets.
